Paterno's reign in Happy Valley done

► Ouster by university trustees comes after two days of growing criticism ► Governing body said his departure 'not an easy decision'

Penn State University's governing body ousted legendary coach Joe Paterno last night along with university President Graham Spanier, ending Paterno's 46-year reign in Happy Valley.

"It was not an easy decision," board of trustees Vice Chairman John Surma said last night shortly after 10 p.m. "In our view, things had reached a point that a change was necessary in the long interest of the university."

Riot police were dispatched to the university's main campus in State College in anticipation of students' reaction to Paterno ouster. For the last couple days, students publicly supported Paterno on and nearby the campus. Hundreds spent hours outside Paterno's home off campus Monday and Tuesday.

JoePa's firing comes after a day of growing criticism about the university's silence on the coach's future. Paterno said in a statement earlier in the day that he would stay on for the rest of the season, then retire.

said earlier yesterday on the sports network, "It's inconceivable to me that they could continue in their current position," fellow college sports analysts like Kirk Herbstreit said that kicking out Paterno and his staff before the end of the season would be unfair to the young athletes on the team.

Assistant coach Tom Bradley will take over for the rest of the year, the trustees said.

No texting and driving

Gov. Tom Corbett yesterday signed into law a statewide ban on texting while driving, which prohibits motorists from sending, reading or writing a text message, and comes with a $50 fine. By making it a primary offense, police can pull over motorists who are caught in violation. The law takes effect in March. METRO

Feds look into whether PSU follow crime rules

The U.S. Department of Education announced last night that it will investigate whether Penn State University failed to comply with federal crime reporting laws.

"If it turns out that some people at the school knew of the abuse and did nothing or covered it up, that makes it even worse," Education Secretary Arne Duncan said of the sex abuse scandal. "Schools and school officials have a legal and moral responsibility to protect children and young people from violence and abuse." METRO/AW

Video released of 'odd' Society Hill shooting

► Upscale neighborhood is unfamiliar with gunfire
► Police still unsure of motive in Pine Street attack

New details have emerged about the street-fight-turned-shooting in Society Hill Monday night, as police released surveillance footage and the victim, 46, who remains hospitalized in critical but stable condition, is now able to communicate with investigators by squeezing their hands.

"It's troubling to us because we're not sure why it happened," Lt. Ray Evers said yesterday afternoon. "They didn't go through walking westbound on the 400 block of Pine Street. Evers said that there does not appear to have been enough time for words to have been exchanged before the first punch was thrown. "As you can see from the video, it happened almost spontaneously," he said.

Video of the crime shows the victim encountering two white men

"We believe the complainant was getting the best of the two males and that they probably shot the male while he was on the

The man fought back in what Evers called a "vicious battle" that turned into a "long struggle."

"We are trying to get the video out to as many people in the area because we believe [the gunmen] may have been in a bar or restaurant at that area because of the time," he added, saying that they were possibly watching the Eagles game on South Street.

Vince Fumo expected to speak in defense

Sentence possible today

A bearded Fumo sat in the courtroom in a green prison jumpsuit with his hair somewhat disheveled. He occasionally nodded to family and friends, while also conferring several times with defense attorneys.

Fumo is expected to speak on his behalf today before Buckwalter imposes a new sentence. A ruling could come by this afternoon. METRO/SDL

► First day of resentencing hearing included medical testimony about health ► Return includes new beard

Federal prosecutors in the resentencing of convicted ex-Sen. Vince Fumo yesterday tried to paint a picture of a man who continues to lie to suit his needs.

Fumo was sentenced to 55 months in prison in July 2009 after he was convicted of defrauding the state Senate, the Citizens Alliance, and Independence Seaport Museum out of millions of dollars, but an appeals court tossed out the sentence by U.S. District Court Judge Ronald Buckwalter. Prosecutors want the sentence increased to 18 years, while Fumo's defense is pushing for the same sentence.

POST YOUR COMMENTS:
WWW.METRO.US/PHL

Testimony yesterday largely focused on Fumo's health and his application for a drug treatment program at the Ashland, Ky., prison where he's confined. Dr. John Manenti, regional medical director for the Bureau of Prisons, testified that Fumo's overall health has been stable despite serious medical conditions.

"He's done quite well," Manenti said of Fumo's improvement with anxiety attacks and renal failure.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Robert Zauzmer also claimed that Fumo applied for residential drug abuse treatment in order to get a reduced sentence. He pointed to several letters written by Fumo's physicians after he was sentenced that referred to prescription drug and alcohol abuse — problems that were not mentioned before sentencing.

Defense attorneys argue that Fumo was addicted to painkillers before his arrest and applied to the program to get help.

Can Cain overcome the stain?

Republican Herman Cain will likely try to move past an escalating sexual harassment controversy during an evening presidential debate on economic issues held in the hard-hit manufacturing state of Michigan.

The debate will be a homecoming for Cain's rival Mitt Romney, who was born in Michigan and hopes to consolidate his status as the candidate to beat in the Republican race to choose a 2012 challenger to President Barack Obama.

The economic focus is likely to limit discussion of the harassment allegations by four women against Cain, which threaten to derail the former pizza exec-

Murphy exits Oscars after producer's slur

- Brett Ratner resigns from show following gay insult
- He's the one who convinced Murphy to participate

Comedian Eddie Murphy bowed out yesterday as host of the upcoming Oscars, one day after producer Brett Ratner who had lured Murphy into the role also exited following an uproar from his use of a gay slur.

"I appreciate how Eddie feels about losing his creative partner, Brett Ratner, and we all wish him well," Tom Sherak, president of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, which puts on the Oscars, said in a statement.

On Tuesday, Ratner resigned from the high-profile job as Oscar producer in the face of an industry firestorm after his answer to a question at a screening this past weekend of his new comedy, "Tower Heist," which Murphy stars in.

Ratner was asked about using rehearsals ahead of the film shoot, and he replied "rehearsing is for fags." He later apologized publicly, but gay rights groups and some members of the academy took issue with his use of the slur.

"First and foremost, I want to say that I completely understand and support each party's decision with regard to a change of producers for this year's Academy Awards ceremony," Murphy said in a statement.

"I was truly looking forward to being a part of the show that our production team and writers were just starting to develop, but I'm sure that the new production team and host will do an equally great job," Murphy said. REUTERS

If you have TYPE 2 DIABETES, take steps to help control your blood sugar.

Pay as little as $5*
For up to 12 prescriptions.
Eligibility restrictions and terms apply.

Talk to your doctor about lowering blood sugar levels. Talk to your doctor about JANUVIA.

Decreases
Sugar Made
In Liver

- JANUVIA is a once-daily prescription pill that helps your body increase the insulin made in your pancreas and decrease the sugar made in your liver.
- Along with diet and exercise, JANUVIA helps lower blood sugar levels in adults with type 2 diabetes.
- JANUVIA is not likely to cause weight gain or low blood sugar (hypoglycemia).

JANUVIA (jah-NEW-vee-ah) should not be used in patients with type 1 diabetes or with diabetic ketoacidosis (increased ketones in the blood or urine). If you have had pancreatitis (inflammation of the pancreas), it is not known if you have a higher chance of getting it while taking JANUVIA.

Selected Risk Information About JANUVIA: Serious side effects can happen in people who take JANUVIA, including pancreatitis, which may be severe and lead to death. Before you start taking JANUVIA, tell your doctor if you've ever had pancreatitis. Stop taking JANUVIA and call your doctor right away if you have pain in your stomach area (abdomen) that is severe and will not go away. The pain may be felt going from your abdomen through to your back. The pain may happen with or without vomiting. These may be symptoms of pancreatitis.

Do not take JANUVIA if you are allergic to any of its ingredients, including sitagliptin. Symptoms of serious allergic reactions to JANUVIA, including rash, hives, and swelling of the face, lips, tongue, and throat that may cause difficulty breathing or swallowing, can occur. If you have any symptoms of a serious allergic reaction, stop taking JANUVIA and call your doctor right away.

Kidney problems, sometimes requiring dialysis, have been reported.

If you take JANUVIA with another medicine that can cause low blood sugar (hypoglycemia), such as a sulfonylurea or insulin, your risk of getting low blood sugar is higher. The dose of your sulfonylurea medicine or insulin may need to be lowered while you use JANUVIA. Signs and symptoms of low blood sugar may include headache, drowsiness, weakness, dizziness, confusion, irritability, hunger, fast heart beat, sweating, and feeling jittery.

Your doctor may do blood tests before and during treatment with JANUVIA to see how well your kidneys are working. Based on these results, your doctor may change your dose of JANUVIA. The most common side effects of JANUVIA are upper respiratory tract infection, stuffy or runny nose and sore throat, and headache.

Call 1-888-JANUVIA or visit Januvia.com.

Now you can get JANUVIA for as little as $5 per prescription.*

*Eligible patients may pay as little as $5 out of pocket on each of up to 12 qualifying prescriptions. Maximum savings is $100 per prescription.

Medication Guide

JANUVIA® (jah-NEW-vee-ah) (sitagliptin) Tablets

Read this Medication Guide carefully before you start taking JANUVIA and each time you get a refill. There may be new information. This information does not take the place of talking with your doctor about your medical condition or your treatment. If you have any questions about JANUVIA, ask your doctor or pharmacist.

What is the most important information I should know about JANUVIA?

Serious side effects can happen in people taking JANUVIA, including inflammation of the pancreas (pancreatitis) which may be severe and lead to death.

Certain medical problems make you more likely to get pancreatitis.

Before you start taking JANUVIA:

Tell your doctor if you have ever had

- pancreatitis
- stones in your gallbladder (gallstones)
- a history of alcoholism
- high blood triglyceride levels
- kidney problems

Stop taking JANUVIA and call your doctor right away if you have pain in your stomach area (abdomen) that is severe and will not go away. The pain may be felt going from your abdomen through to your back. The pain may happen with or without vomiting. These may be symptoms of pancreatitis.

What is JANUVIA?

- JANUVIA is a prescription medicine used along with diet and exercise to lower blood sugar in adults with type 2 diabetes.
- JANUVIA is not for people with type 1 diabetes.
- JANUVIA is not for people with diabetic ketoacidosis (increased ketones in your blood or urine).
- If you have had pancreatitis (inflammation of the pancreas) in the past, it is not known if you have a higher chance of getting pancreatitis while you take JANUVIA.
- It is not known if JANUVIA is safe and effective when used in children under 18 years of age.

Who should not take JANUVIA?

Do not take JANUVIA if:

- you are allergic to any of the ingredients in JANUVIA. See the end of this Medication Guide for a complete list of ingredients in JANUVIA.

Symptoms of a serious allergic reaction to JANUVIA may include:

- rash
- raised red patches on your skin (hives)
- swelling of the face, lips, tongue, and throat that may cause difficulty in breathing or swallowing

What should I tell my doctor before taking JANUVIA?

Before you take JANUVIA, tell your doctor if you:

- have or have had inflammation of your pancreas (pancreatitis).
- have kidney problems.
- have any other medical conditions.
- are pregnant or plan to become pregnant. It is not known if JANUVIA will harm your unborn baby. If you are pregnant, talk with your doctor about the best way to control your blood sugar while you are pregnant.
Pregnancy Registry: If you take JANUVIA at any time during your pregnancy, talk with your doctor about how you can join the JANUVIA pregnancy registry. The purpose of this registry is to collect information about the health of you and your baby. You can enroll in this registry by calling 1-800-986-8999.
- are breast-feeding or plan to breast-feed. It is not known if JANUVIA will pass into your breast milk. Talk with your doctor about the best way to feed your baby if you are taking JANUVIA.

Tell your doctor about all the medicines you take, including prescription and non-prescription medicines, vitamins, and herbal supplements.

Know the medicines you take. Keep a list of your medicines and show it to your doctor and pharmacist when you get a new medicine.

How should I take JANUVIA?

- Take JANUVIA 1 time each day exactly as your doctor tells you.
- You can take JANUVIA with or without food.
- Your doctor may do blood tests from time to time to see how well your kidneys are working. Your doctor may change your dose of JANUVIA based on the results of your blood tests.
- Your doctor may tell you to take JANUVIA along with other diabetes medicines. Low blood sugar can happen more often when JANUVIA is taken with certain other diabetes medicines. See “What are the possible side effects of JANUVIA?”.
- If you miss a dose, take it as soon as you remember. If you do not remember until it is time for your next dose, skip the missed dose and go back to your regular schedule. Do not take two doses of JANUVIA at the same time.
- If you take too much JANUVIA, call your doctor or local Poison Control Center right away.
- When your body is under some types of stress, such as fever, trauma (such as a car accident), infection or surgery, the amount of diabetes medicine that you need may change. Tell your doctor right away if you have any of these conditions and follow your doctor's instructions.
- Check your blood sugar as your doctor tells you to.

- Stay on your prescribed diet and exercise program while taking JANUVIA.
- Talk to your doctor about how to prevent, recognize and manage low blood sugar (hypoglycemia), high blood sugar (hyperglycemia), and problems you have because of your diabetes.
- Your doctor will check your diabetes with regular blood tests, including your blood sugar levels and your hemoglobin A1C.

What are the possible side effects of JANUVIA?

Serious side effects have happened in people taking JANUVIA.

- See “What is the most important information I should know about JANUVIA?”.
- Low blood sugar (hypoglycemia). If you take JANUVIA with another medicine that can cause low blood sugar, such as a sulfonylurea or insulin, your risk of getting low blood sugar is higher. The dose of your sulfonylurea medicine or insulin may need to be lowered while you use JANUVIA. Signs and symptoms of low blood sugar may include:

|              |                   |
|--------------|-------------------|
| • headache   | • irritability    |
| • drowsiness | • hunger          |
| • weakness   | • fast heart beat |
| • dizziness  | • sweating        |
| • confusion  | • feeling jittery |

- Serious allergic reactions. If you have any symptoms of a serious allergic reaction, stop taking JANUVIA and call your doctor right away. See “Who should not take JANUVIA?”. Your doctor may give you a medicine for your allergic reaction and prescribe a different medicine for your diabetes.

- Kidney problems, sometimes requiring dialysis

The most common side effects of JANUVIA include:

- upper respiratory infection
- stuffy or runny nose and sore throat
- headache

JANUVIA may have other side effects, including:

- stomach upset and diarrhea
- swelling of the hands or legs, when JANUVIA is used with rosiglitazone (Avandia®). Rosiglitazone is another type of diabetes medicine.

These are not all the possible side effects of JANUVIA. For more information, ask your doctor or pharmacist.

Tell your doctor if you have any side effect that bothers you, is unusual or does not go away.

Call your doctor for medical advice about side effects. You may report side effects to FDA at 1-800-FDA-1088.

How should I store JANUVIA?

Store JANUVIA at 68°F to 77°F (20°C to 25°C).

Keep JANUVIA and all medicines out of the reach of children.

General information about the use of JANUVIA

Medicines are sometimes prescribed for purposes that are not listed in Medication Guides. Do not use JANUVIA for a condition for which it was not prescribed. Do not give JANUVIA to other people, even if they have the same symptoms you have. It may harm them.

This Medication Guide summarizes the most important information about JANUVIA. If you would like to know more information, talk with your doctor. You can ask your doctor or pharmacist for additional information about JANUVIA that is written for health professionals. For more information, go to www.JANUVIA.com or call 1-800-622-4477.

What are the ingredients in JANUVIA?

Active ingredient: sitagliptin.

Inactive ingredients: microcrystalline cellulose, anhydrous dibasic calcium phosphate, croscarmellose sodium, magnesium stearate, and sodium stearyl fumarate. The tablet film coating contains the following inactive ingredients: polyvinyl alcohol, polyethylene glycol, talc, titanium dioxide, red iron oxide, and yellow iron oxide.

What is type 2 diabetes?

Type 2 diabetes is a condition in which your body does not make enough insulin, and the insulin that your body produces does not work as well as it should. Your body can also make too much sugar. When this happens, sugar (glucose) builds up in the blood. This can lead to serious medical problems.

High blood sugar can be lowered by diet and exercise, and by certain medicines when necessary.

In US, seriously ill struggle to get help

► Chronically sick Americans lag behind in access to and payment of health care ► We spend more, though

Americans who have a chronic illness or serious health problems are more likely to struggle to pay their medical bills or have problems getting needed care than adults with similar problems in other high-income countries, a survey released yesterday found.

The poll of more than 18,000 adults in the United States and 10 other high-income countries found that Americans were most likely to have problems getting needed care because of the cost, or to have medical debt, according to data released by the Commonwealth Fund.

"Despite spending far more on health care than any other country, the United States practically stands alone when it comes to people with illness or chronic conditions having difficulty affording health care and paying medical bills," Commonwealth Fund president Karen Davis said in a statement.

► We need help, STAT!

"This is a clear indication of the urgent need for Affordable Care Act reforms geared toward improving coverage and controlling health care costs."

The 2011 telephone survey included people who said they were in fair or poor health, those who had surgery in the prior two years, or those who had been treated for a serious illness or injury in the prior year. It found that 42 percent of the 1,200 U.S. adults with health problems in the survey went without care because of costs. REUTERS

Health. Eating

► Researchers say: "Live a little!"

Salt study: It's not all bad

Reducing salt in the diets of the general population may not have an overall positive health impact, according to a review of more than 160 scientific studies published yesterday. The review found that while cutting down on salt reduced blood pressure in people with normal or high blood pressure, it also caused increases in some compounds that can adversely affect people's heart health. REUTERS

Wal-Mart: We're not trying for health care

ARKANSAS. Wal-Mart Stores erroneously portrayed its ambitions as a health care provider in a document sent to potential vendors recently, leading to the mistaken impression that the world's largest retailer wanted to become a national primary care provider, according to a statement from the corporation.

The document says that Wal-Mart sought to become "the largest provider of primary health care services in the nation."

The retailer yesterday said that formal document sent to vendors, known as a "request for information," was "overwritten and incorrect."

"We are not building a national, integrated, low-cost primary care health care platform," a Wal-Mart doctor said. REUTERS

THE WORD

Metro's Dorothy Robinson shares her take on the world of gossip @dorothyatmetro dorothy.robinson@metro.us

The feed ...

▶ Checking in with some of Hollywood's biggest names to see what they've been up to — in their own words, in 140 characters or fewer.

Today, Justin Bieber is looking ahead, Nathan Fillion is a man on a mission, Mindy Kaling is heading to the movies and Seth MacFarlane isn't convinced.

▶ @justinbieber so this past week and even today every rumor and lie about me possible has been coming out in the press. Just need to ignore it.

▶ @NathanFillion I am determined to find out what @jim-mymetrol smells like. A few guesses: Cotton Candy Old Spice Old cotton candy, spiced.

▶ @mindykaling I think I'm excited for Jack & Jill because it seems like one of those movie parody trailers from Tropic Thunder ▶ @SethMacFarlane I can't buy the Superfriends. The "super" part is believable, but no way they're genuinely friends.

Talking points

We already knew this, Arquette

Though they've yet to file for divorce more than a year after separating, David Arquette says his marriage to Courtney Cox is definitely over. When pressed by Howard Stern during a radio interview if he would break up with new girlfriend Christina McLarty and move back in with Cox if she asked, Arquette gave a simple "no." And while Stern has previously gotten plenty of information out of Arquette, the recent "Dancing with the Stars" contestant is looking to stay more tightlipped going forward: "I'm trying to keep my personal life personal," he says. "It's very hard for me because I'm a very honest person."

Town is warned about Harry

Prince Harry has moved on to Gila Bend, Ariz., for the final leg of his helicopter training in the U.S. — and his reputation has apparently preceded him. "We have some very pretty girls here," Gila Bend Mayor Ron Henry tells the Daily Mail. "Some of the dads won't take too kindly to a prince fornicating the night away and drinking into the small hours. It is a very quiet town with a lot of good Christian people. This isn't a party town." And yes, he said "fornicating."

Move over, Bertinelli

Jenny Craig attracts, let's say, "midlevel" celebs to be their spokespeople. Sara Rue, Valerie Bertinelli, Phylicia Rashad and Jason Alexander are among those who have been paid handsomely to shill the company. But they must have paid buckets of cash to afford their latest spokeswoman, Mariah Carey.

The company's big celeb get was revealed yesterday at New York City's Four Seasons. Carey arrived 20 minutes late to the conference and was escorted all the way to the stage to what we thought would be to take questions from reporters, which is why we were there. Instead, she was just interviewed by Gayle King about her involvement with Jenny Craig, which, by the way, is now just called "Jenny."

Carey says she started Jenny in July and has lost 30 pounds so far. She told King she was approached by three different weight loss companies while pregnant but picked Jenny because she clicked with the people. "Some other suitors have great money, have great ... whatever it is that their concepts are — I didn't really connect with the people, and this was only over the phone at first. The first time I spoke with the executors at Jenny it was like we really clicked."

"Like all day every day when I was pregnant, [I was] in the bath, with a towel, seriously, doing business calls, talking to lawyers with water splashing."

But Carey didn't discuss the diet exclusively: We also learned little personal tidbits about her, like the fact that she enjoys taking business calls while in the bathtub. "Like all day every day when I was pregnant, [I was] in the bath, with a towel, seriously, doing business calls, talking to lawyers with water splashing," she revealed. "[My trainer] Bernardo and I were doing exercises mainly in the water." As she demo'd some of her aquatic moves, she made sure to look good in the process: "Let me do it a more elegantly for the photo — please don't get a bad angle."

Carey says that she was so embarrassed by her pregnant body that she never went naked. Anywhere. "I was never nude. I had a towel on in the tub, I had clothing on in the tub," she told King. "I'm not lying. You think I would let Nick see me looking rancid like that?" Rancid? One thing's for sure: Mariah Carey will not become the spokesman for Earth Mothers International anytime soon.

—With additional reporting by Meredith Engel

Mariah Carey poses with Jenny Craig CEO Dana Fiser at a press conference yesterday at the Four Seasons Hotel New York to announce that she is the new Jenny Craig brand ambassador.

Also ...

Here are some more highlights from yesterday's press conference:

- ▶ Mariah doesn't own a scale, and the last time she weighed herself was when her single "My All" was out.
- ▶ Her twins have a website, www.dembabies.com.
- ▶ She bought an ultrasound machine during her pregnancy.
- ▶ The conference room was decked out with mood lighting, a white fur rug and white leather chairs.
- ▶ She has a penchant for using the word "dahhling."
- ▶ She actually does the two-cheek air-kiss. Really! Like you would expect any less.

The first NOEL

► Elder Gallagher on why his solo debut won't be caught beneath the landslide of Oasis ► Also says that if Liam were your brother, 'you wouldn't talk to him either'

In the summer of 1996, Oasis were at the peak of their career. The Gallagher brothers had been declared legends, and in front of the castle Knebworth they were crowning their success with the biggest double concert ever in the United Kingdom — in front of 250,000 fans.

Fifteen years later Oasis have split up, brothers Liam and Noel only communicate through their lawyers and they have separate music careers. Liam has Beady Eye, and last month Noel released "Noel Gallagher's High Flying Birds," his first solo album.

"F—in' hell," Noel swears and sighs while flipping through messages on his phone. "You can start asking your questions now."

Before the 1996 castle concert, Noel answered questions sitting on a throne. Now Metro meets him slouching in a beige sofa; an aging icon, and a father of three.

He has been talking to the media all day, and looks tired.

This is your first solo album. How has it been different recording "Noel Gallagher's High Flying Birds" compared to working with Oasis? I guess you can imagine the differences. It used to be five guys who were painting, now I've been alone with the brush.

What's the biggest difference writing songs at 30, compared to when you're 44? Have the lyrics and the music changed?

The circumstances in my life have absolutely changed — I have three kids now. And a cat. But no, I don't think it has affected my song writing. I don't write songs about my amazing kids — that would be a pretty boring album. I hope that whoever listens should see something of themselves in my songs.

You have said that the recording of this album reminded you of the time when you made "Definitely Maybe." The similarities are that this is my first solo album and that was Oasis' first album.

The excitement about the unknown is the same, I think. We didn't have an audience then — and I don't have an audience now.

How are things between you and brother Liam? We haven't spoken in two years.

How does that feel? He is your brother after all? But he isn't your brother.

And if he were, you wouldn't talk to him either. Will there ever be an Oasis reunion?

I doubt it. When I close my eyes I can't see it. And, when I listen to my soul I don't want it.

Our Aim is to Beat Most Offers!

We Strive to Beat All Legitimate Written Offers Before Bringing your items to us, take them to other dealers. Have them give you legitimate offers in writing. Then bring your jewelry and written offers to one of our locations. Although no one can guarantee with certainty they are paying the highest price for an article at any particular time, we will strive to beat most legitimate written offers.

Why We Can Usually Pay More Than Other Dealers
Most jewelers and dealers specialize in few items and focus on newer looking items to resell. Because they are unfamiliar with many other items including vintage jewelry, old watches, coins, flatware, etc. they tend to offer very low prices because these items are not readily salable for them. Our company has many specialized buyers for the various classifications of items that we purchase, therefore we can usually pay more.

A Note Regarding the Up To Prices listed in this Ad
The condition and rarity of an item determines its price. If an item is in excellent condition and very rare it might be worth the up to price, or even more. However, if an item is in poor condition, the value will be lower. For example, a 1927 S Quarter could be worth $7,000 in new condition or less than $20 in poor condition. The up to price reflects items of exceptional quality and rarity. Although it is unlikely you will have these items due to their extreme rarity, feel free to bring whatever items you may have and we will evaluate them free of charge.

Customer Satisfaction
Most of our business comes from satisfied customers and referrals which includes their friends and families. Our showrooms are safe and private. Our staff is courteous and professional and we strive as a company to make your selling experience a pleasant one.

Really like it here! Everyone is very kind, great atmosphere. I have been back 4 times!
 — C. Pace

Very informative & professional. A relaxed atmosphere & experience.
 — D. Ross

I have been here 2 times and both times the people that work here were very friendly. I would definitely recommend this to my friends.
 — J. Grace

I heard about this store from the radio and as soon as I got the chance I came to sell my unused jewelry. It was a great & friendly service and I will be back!

 — J. Simsek

The staff was helpful and friendly. I was able to take old jewelry and walk away with a handsome amount of money.
 — D. Smith

Why You Should Sell Now!

The Economy & Market Value

The recent downturn of our economy during the last three years has caused gold and other precious metal prices to soar to the highest levels of all time. This is the reason this is best time to sell before prices drop.

Get Cash Immediately

Our professional staff will provide you with a speedy evaluation and make all payments in cash.

No Charge

We do not charge for our consultations. Find out how much cash your unwanted items will put in your pocket. Many customers have been surprised and delighted by the amount of money they received.

Safe, Secure & Friendly

Our showrooms are safe and private. Our staff is courteous and professional and we strive as a company to make your selling experience a pleasant one.

Licensed, Bonded & Insured

We are licensed, bonded and insured in all cities and towns in which we conduct business.

Help the Environment

Using recycled precious metals for jewelry is an important way for jewelers to source precious metals more responsibly. Precious metals that have already been used in some way, including "vintage," "renewed," or "reclaimed" metals from jewelry and electronics, are not directly implicated in the destructive impacts of mining. They do not share responsibility for the impacts of mining in the same way that newly mined gold does.

TV watch list

► Elena (Nina Dobrev) and Matt (Zach Roerig) and all of their supernatural friends battle Klaus while looking fabulous at "The Vampire Diaries" homecoming.

'The Vampire Diaries'

DRAMA. What's more believable — that Elena and co. will defeat the all-powerful vampire/werewolf hybrid Klaus, or that My Morning Jacket would play the Mystic Falls homecoming dance? (We're guessing the latter.) It's the mid-season finale, so with that kind of supernatural showdown in the works, expect this hour to end on a cliffhanger. New episodes will return Jan. 5. Mid-season finale, 8 p.m., The CW

'The Office'

COMEDY. Pam worries that the hot new temp hired to fill in while she's on maternity leave will relieve her from more than just paperwork — like maybe by becoming Jim's "office wife." 9 p.m., NBC

'Grey's Anatomy'

DRAMA. Meredith and Derek finally learn if they'll be able to adopt baby Zola. So, you know, have the tissue box handy either way. 9 p.m., ABC

'Braxton Family Values'

REALITY. Toni reveals a secret Tamar's been hiding. The question is, with five sisters and reality TV cameras in tow, how did she have a secret to begin with? Season premiere, 9 p.m., WE TV AMBER RAY

Head of the 'Family'

► Sophia Vergara regularly steals the show as Gloria on 'Modern Family' ► The actress on representing Colombia, her character's canine battle and being mistaken for her son's sister

While she insists she had no comedy background before coming to the United States, Sofia Vergara steals the show among a cast of comic talents and Emmy winners as Gloria on "Modern Family." It's a part that's catapulted her to fame in the States, meaning more people recognizing her in public — unless she keeps quiet. "As long as I don't speak, I'm safe," she says in her distinct Colombian accent, which is only slightly exaggerated for the show.

How important is it that your character is Colombian? And what do you think about the jokes about Colombia featured in the show?

I love it, I think it's fantastic and everybody loves it. You know, Colombians, we don't get offended. It's not like the writers are inventing things about Colombia, you know? It's a reality, what can we do? We just have to laugh about it.

Do you like what the writers have done with Gloria?

For them to write for a hot Latin woman, I thought it was going to be a problem, but they're great. At the beginning I was worried. How are they going to know how a Latin woman thinks? They even write my mispronunciations now. They know me so well. Usually they write, "And Gloria says something in Spanish," and they let me say whatever I want, you know? They're not going to tell me what to say in Spanish. And of course I say something that I think is funny.

Do you have any idea what's coming up for Gloria this season?

You don't really know because every episode is a little story, so they don't need to write the thread out until the end. I know what we have filmed these past two months. There's a lot of jealousy between Gloria and Stella the dog. That's the main drama in her life right now, the dog. She hates the dog. And also a little bit of jealousy because of Manny's romantic life.

How does Gloria's relationship with Manny compare to your relationship with your own son?

It's very similar. I mean, my son is older now — he's 20 years old. But it's very similar. He was always like an old soul. It's funny because sometimes I'll watch my show with my son and he just looks at me like, "Did you tell them that?" I love when [people think] he's my brother. He hates it, he wants to throw up in front of the people. Like for example if I'm with him and somebody says, "Oh, tell your sister to come," and I don't say anything, I don't correct them, he's like, "Tell them! Tell them you're my mother!"

Video games and dancing go together like chocolate and anchovies, yet games that make us do the truffle shuffle in front of family and friends have been selling like gangbusters. Titles like "Just Dance" and "Dance Central" perch atop the sales charts like well-choreographed pigeons. Here are two more — "Dance Central 2" for the Xbox 360 Kinect and "Everybody Dance" for PS3 Move — vying to cut a rug into our wallets.

'Dance Central 2'

Console: Xbox 360 Kinect
Microsoft

Grade: 00000

The game that managed to outpace Wii Sports in the "your co-worker that hates video games inexplicably loves this" contest is back for a second helping. Thanks to the magical elves lurking in the Kinect, this sequel follows where the first title left off. Specifically, the way you dance in real life is the way you dance on your TV. See? Magic.

This would be a lowly tech demo if there wasn't a good game to back it up. Thankfully, there is. "Dance Central 2" ups the ante with more songs, more challenges and, finally, simultaneous multiplayer support. Now you can settle that age-old dispute between friends as to who would fare best in a dance battle. Hey, whatever floats your boat.

'Everybody Dance'

Console: PS3 Move
Sony

Grade: 00000

It's about time Sony and their Wii-esque wand attachment got a great dancing game. The device is called the Move, after all. "Everybody Dance" uses the power of the PlayStation Eye in tandem with the controller to create something that is close to the level of full body motion control seen in "Dance Central."

It's still really fun though. This game brings some cool bells and whistles to the table. Each track features several difficulty levels and comes equipped with the official music video. There is also a mode that allows you to partner up with your friends in coordinated routines. If you're gonna get hammered at home, you could do worse than Sony's new dancing baby.

Five reasons to go to the movies this weekend

1 'Immortals' Critics have been buzzing that the director of "The Cell" and the man behind one of the two new Snow White remakes, Tarsem Singh, has a fun hit on his hands with this tale of a man (Henry Cavill) chosen by Zeus to fight against King Hyperion's quest to find the ultimate weapon of mass destruction.

2 'J. Edgar' Though Clint Eastwood's latest effort may not shine like some of his previous films, this biopic about the first head of the FBI is fascinating — if only for the way it makes Leo DiCaprio look fat and decrepit.

3 'Jack and Jill' Isn't it just the pinnacle of a comic actor's career when they get to play multiple lead characters? Just ask Eddie Murphy how "Norbit" went down. In this film, Adam Sandler plays a man faced with some unwanted quality time with his annoying twin sister.

4 'Tower Heist' Ben Stiller stars as an apartment building manager who assembles a group of fellow disgruntled employees to steal back the pension money that rich tenant (Alan Alda) squandered in a Madoff-esque scam.

5 'A Very Harold & Kumar 3D Christmas' Our favorite modern-day Cheech and Chong are back six years after crashing Guantanamo Bay for a very stoney Christmas adventure. Prepare to dodge eggs, hats, fingers and traffic cones in what is probably the only comedy to make the most of its 3-D effects. METRO

Mixed bag on Occupiers

RE: "NO REASON TO COMPLAIN, OWS": Want to know why the Occupy Wall Street movement exists? According to the Congressional Budget Office, from 1979 to 2007, average household income for the nation's top 1 percent more than tripled while middle-class incomes grew by less than 40 percent. E. LOPEZ, VIA E-MAIL

Mr. Golfman either hasn't had to job hunt in the last decade, or he's being paid to write this drivel. Perhaps he could point to where these "decent paying jobs" are. That would be more persuasive than the hollow claim of the USA still being "the land of opportunity."

JOSEPH CONNELL, VIA E-MAIL

Doctor wasn't being careful

RE: "MJ: THE CULT OF IRRESPONSIBILITY": I am tired of everybody talking about the guilty hearing of Dr. Conrad Murray for Michael Jackson's death as if it was MJ's fault. MJ's drug use was not on trial here; the doctor's competency was. Knowing his client's dependence on drugs, he should not have continued with any treatments until MJ agreed to round-the-clock nurses.

Why is Romney the GOP star?

RE: "NEW CAIN SLOGAN: NEIN, NEIN, NEINI": Though it's valid to follow through the accusations of sexual harassment that will inevitably bury Cain, we're allowing Romney a free pass to regroup and recover uncontested. Let's have some discussion about how a flip-flopping, big government career politician and millionaire CEO is trying yet again to buy the Republican nomination.

Horoscope

♏ Scorpio Oct. 24-Nov. 22. Being domineering can lead to complications with those who share your day. It can be particularly destructive if you encounter someone who is a trifle more forceful than you.

♐ Sagittarius Nov. 23-Dec. 21. Even if it causes you some major inconvenience, don't let down those who are depending upon you. Meet your obligations like a responsible person.

♑ Capricorn Dec. 22-Jan. 19. Don't coerce a friend to agree with you when you know that she or he isn't in accord with your thinking. It does nothing but cause your pal to resent being put in that position.

♒ Aquarius Jan. 20-Feb. 19. An important goal can be achievable when you get past all your doubt and inadequacy. If you want to win, you must think in terms of victory. Otherwise failure takes over.

♓ Pisces Feb. 20-March 20. If experience has taught you that a certain topic agitates a friend, stay off of it or refuse to engage if another brings it up. Failing to do so could cause a nasty dust-up.

♈ Aries March 21-April 19. Be on your toes, because someone who knows how to manipulate your generous nature could hijack your finances.

♉ Taurus April 20-May 20. If you can't avoid dealing with someone who has a faculty for getting under your skin, be as tactful as you can. When this person makes a nasty comment, consider the source.

♊ Gemini May 21-June 20. It's going to just be one of those days when neglected duties or commitments are likely to catch up with you. When numerous things clamor for your attention, take it in stride.

♋ Cancer June 21-July 22. Even if the position you take is an unpopular one, don't let your peers pressure you into doing something that goes against your better judgment.

♌ Leo July 23-Aug. 22. Keep a cool head when things go awry at home, and encourage other family members to do the same. Unpleasant events can get worse.

♍ Virgo Aug. 23-Sept. 22. Don't allow yourself to blow up over something that you've handled with tolerance up until now. Continue to keep a cool head and encourage others to ice their noggins as well.

♎ Libra Sept. 23-Oct. 23. People are a bit touchy, making any commercial dealings a bit trickier than usual. If you're involved with someone who is having a hard time keeping cool, help him or her by smiling copiously.

Make this:

Shipwrecked Toddy
What's in it:

- 3 cups apple cider
- 4 cinnamon sticks
- ½ cup Shipwreck Spiced Rum
- ½ cup cinnamon schnapps

How to make it: In a medium saucepan over medium heat, combine all ingredients and heat through. Do not boil. Mull for 45-60 minutes. Serve warm (this makes four drinks) in a mug with cinnamon sticks or nutmeg to garnish.

And order this:

Meet the Pumpkin Pie Martini, now on the menu at Rum Bar (2005 Walnut St.). Made with the aforementioned Shipwreck Rum, she's in good seasonal company with warm and toasty friends such as the Bananas Foster Martini.

After nearly four decades as master distiller for the Brown-Forman Corporation, overseeing name-brand bourbons Woodford Reserve and Old Forester, Lincoln Henderson was looking forward to a peaceful retirement. That dream ended when his son Wesley approached him with the idea of starting up their own distillery operation.

"I told him he was stupid," Henderson recalls in his warm Kentucky drawl. "But he went ahead with it, the whiskey became mature, we put it in port barrels for about six months, and now we have Angel's Envy."

Angel's Envy, which Henderson has referred to as his "life's work," will be one of more than 200 spirits available for tasting at the eighth annual Philadelphia Whiskey Festival, where the distiller himself will be on hand, as will Fred Noe, great-grandson of Jim Beam, who will be signing bottles of the family business' Devil's Cut

We ask showbiz personalities what they look for in their nightlife experiences.

This week, we check in with Boyz II Men singer Nathan Morris and ask about one of his favorite local places to eat.

► PAT HEALY

What's your favorite nightlife place in Philly?
 I like Buddakan.

What is it about that place that appeals to you?
 It's mellow, laid-back and it's really a classy restaurant, and it's good if you want to go hang out and have a chill, quiet night.

What do you usually order there?
 I order the chicken dish, which all depends on what they have that night.

► Indie rock, classic 1960s soul and sweaty energy all meet up in Fitz and the Tantrums ► More fans are 'Pickin' Up the Pieces' as the LA six-piece graduate to larger venues

Everything about Michael Fitzpatrick is befitting of a man who fronts a band called Fitz and the Tantrums. In performance, he's a dancing machine, and in conversation he's quick with a quip and prone to emotional reactions.

"Nobody gives anybody in rock 'n' roll s— for being in the 10 millionth rock band," he says when the topic arises of other contemporary soul-influenced acts like Mayer Hawthorne, Sharon Jones and the Dap-Kings and Eli "Paperboy" Reed. Fitzpatrick has only kind words for his peers, and he's keen to point out that within the genre, "everyone's doing their own thing." As far as Fitz and the Tantrums are concerned, that's certainly true.

"We don't adhere to the form as rigidly as some of these other artists do, and I love their music. That's just not what we wanted to do," he says. "We wanted to do something that was more of a hybrid. We just weren't afraid to let something that felt like it was outside of the character of soul music make its way onto the record."

What's immediately apparent from the band's 2010 debut, "Pickin' Up the Pieces," is its kinetic energy. Instruments interlock without intruding upon each other, and Fitzpatrick and co-singer Noelle Scaggs both constantly move in the center of it all. He dresses like Don Draper and sings like an angrier Daryl Hall, and she has the style and harmonic capabilities of all of the Supremes in one.

"From the very first show, we started moving around, because the music was making us dance," says Fitzpatrick. "And very early on, Noelle and I started to push each other. And now it's to the point where she and I just do not stand still for one heartbeat. And when you're in a hot, sweaty little dance club, I soak my suit through every single night."

Tender tantrums

Though Fitzpatrick seems to just ooze soul, he says his first exposure to music was actually not rock or soul music.

"I had classical music freaks for parents, so that was the only thing that was allowed to be played in the house."

That was my first ambient music exposure from my dad, and I hated it. Then I learned to love it. Now, in fact, it's the only kind of music I can listen to that calms me down, rather than turns my head on. Because I listen to modern music and I'm thinking about melody, arrangement, song structure, production, because I'm a producer, and it becomes very analytical for me. Or it becomes so emotional that I can't be participating in the conversation. My concession with my parents was that I got to put the oldies station on, on the way to school in the morning."

And how about Fitz's signature hairstyle?

"I went premature gray when I was 22 and I literally formed a skunk stripe on the front of my head, and because the thing was there, I would cut a little less off of it, and then a little less and then all of a sudden it just became this thing."

► We frosted these all by ourselves. Promise.

Why yes,
we do bake!

A lot can go wrong with a cupcake. Too dry, too dense, too sweet, too covered in a sugary mess of a frosting: There are plenty of examples hiding under cute glass domes in boutique bakeries across the city because, well, baking is a tough cookie.

At a recent session of her "Oh, You Bake" classes, professional baker and confessed flour nerd Adriane Appleby began by discussing all of these problems, with the disclaimer, "Stop me if you get bored." None of her students took her up on the offer, instead soaking up tips for everything from evenly cooked cakes (change racks and rotate two-thirds of the way through) to perfectly separated egg whites (crack those babies in a bowl, then grab the yolks out by hand).

Like all of the classes, the $50 cost of cupcake bootcamp included ingredients, the use of Green Line Cafe's kitchen, copies of the recipes and a couple dozen treats to tote home (which you can totally pretend you decorated all on your own). For info on upcoming classes, visit www.addymaes.com/ohyoubake or e-mail ohyoubake@gmail.com.

3 Players in shock as Paterno's reign ends

► Penn State coach had planned to retire at end of season ► Last home game of year is on Saturday

Joe Paterno was fired from the Penn State sideline yesterday during his 46th season as head coach at the university.

Paterno earlier in the day said he would retire at the end of the season. While many media types had called for the head coach to tender his resignation immediately, his players — the ones still in contention for a Big Ten championship — wanted him to stay.

Yesterday, they gave Paterno a standing ovation after he informed the team of his decision to retire. The 84-year-old broke down in tears.

"I never thought I'd hear those words coming from Joe Paterno's mouth," said fullback Michael Zordich, whose father played under disgraced defensive coordinator Jerry Sandusky. "I don't believe he's stepping down solely because of this. The power that he has, to be that selfless, and put this program in front of him and try to clear the program's name, it's unbelievable to me and I can't even tell you how much respect I have for that man."

The Nittany Lions play their last home game of the season against No. 19 Nebraska. Many students had rallied around the coach, who with his thick, black-rimmed glasses and blue windbreaker, has been the face of Penn State football for generations.

"This is a tragedy. With the benefit of hindsight, I wish I had done more," Paterno said in a statement earlier in the day. "My goals now are to keep my commitments to my players and staff and finish the season with dignity and determination. And then I will spend the rest of my life doing everything I can to help this university." METRO/REUTERS ► Michael Zordich and his teammates will play Nebraska on Saturday without JoePa as their coach.

End of an era for Penn State

THE DEAL:

Longtime and legendary head football coach Joe Paterno has decided to call it a career, amid mounting pressure following a shocking sex abuse scandal and coverup. Here's a trip down memory lane:

- ▶ Sept. 17, 1966
Paterno wins first game as head coach, a 15-7 win over Maryland. He was a 16-year assistant coach.
- ▶ Jan. 1, 1969
After a last-second TD and two-point conversion, Penn State caps JoePa's first of back-to-back undefeated seasons.
- ▶ Jan. 1, 1979
Nittany Lions entered the Sugar Bowl as the favorites, but lost to Alabama, 14-7. Paterno's decision to go it for on fourth-and-goal from the 1-foot line is often debated.
- ▶ Jan. 1, 1983
Nits defeat top-ranked Georgia 27-23 in the Sugar Bowl to give Paterno his first national title.
- ▶ Jan. 2, 1987
No. 2 Penn State shocks powerhouse Miami in a 14-10 win in the Fiesta Bowl for second national title. Jerry Sandusky is credited with a masterful defensive game plan.
- ▶ Jan. 2, 1995
A 38-20 Rose Bowl victory makes JoePa only coach to win the Rose, Sugar, Cotton and Orange bowls.
- ▶ May 16, 2006
Paterno is enshrined in the College Football Hall of Fame.
- ▶ Oct. 29, 2011
Just a few weeks ago, Penn State beats Illinois, as Paterno passes Eddie Robinson and becomes winningest coach in Division I history with 409.

Newest Eagle weighs in on Penn St. sex scandal

The Penn State scandal has filtered all the way into the Eagles' locker room.

Brett Brackett, the newest member of the team's practice squad and proud Penn State alum, was immediately swarmed yesterday by reporters. Shockingly, none of them wanted to hear about his new job.

Brackett, who caught 39 balls for 525 yards last season as a senior captain, shared his thoughts on the sex scandal rocking his alma mater.

"First and foremost, my thoughts and prayers go out to the families of the victims, which is something you can never imagine having to deal with," he said.

Brackett said he hasn't ▶ Brackett played four years under Joe Paterno at Penn State.

been following the case too closely, as he tries to learn the Eagles' playbook, and never had any contact with disgraced former defensive coordinator Jerry Sandusky.

"I went about my business, and he didn't really come across my path,"

Brackett said.

However, he did share his opinion on his former coach, Joe Paterno, who announced his retirement after 46 seasons patrolling the Penn State sideline.

"Everybody has their time. My grandfather constantly says that nobody gets out of this world without ends," said Brackett. "So whether it's an end to your career, end to your life, things come to an end. Obviously, it'll be a sad day for that to happen, but it happens to everybody."

As Brackett was concluding his comments one Eagle streaked by and shouted, "It's wrong, Paterno. It's wrong."

Next man up: Mathis out, DRC playing with 'chip'

► Rodgers-Cromartie ready for old team ► Looking to step up his game

The Eagles, at least most of them, were back on the practice field yesterday as the team prepares to host the Arizona Cardinals.

Starting left guard Evan Mathis is dealing with turf toe and didn't practice, according to the team's official injury report. King Dunlap took the first-team reps and expects to start Sunday.

"As far as I know I will be [starting]," Dunlap said. "I don't know how severe Evan's injury is, but as of right now I am. So I'm guarding it up this week."

Meanwhile, starting safety Nate Allen missed practice as he continues to go through the concussion

► Rodgers-Cromartie

@MIKE GREGER
FOR AN UP-TO-DATE
EAGLES/NFL FEED

protocol. If Allen can't suit up, rookie Jaiquawn Jarrett is expected to get the nod.

The Eagles haven't played the Cardinals since losing to them in the 2008 NFC championship game. Eagles cornerback Dominique Rodgers-Cromartie was a member of that Arizona team, but the nostalgia is over. Remember, the Cardinals sent him packing for Kevin Kolb.

"I've got a bit of a chip on my shoulder since the Cardinals were the team that decided to trade me," Rodgers-Cromartie said. "But I'm not going to let it affect my play. It'll be nice to see some of my old teammates and friends, but at the end of the day it's business."

Rodgers-Cromartie was targeted frequently in last week's loss to Chicago and looked out of sorts playing in the slot. He has yet to record an interception.

"I feel like I'm still thinking too much when I'm on the field," he said. "Whenever you're doing that, you're playing slower."

HAVE YOU HAD EMPHYSEMA FLARE-UPS?

Taking A Statin Pill May Help.

The Temple Lung Center is conducting a clinical trial to find out if a statin pill, used to reduce cholesterol and prevent heart disease, can also help reduce the number and severity of emphysema flare-ups.

TO BE A PART OF THIS TRIAL YOU MUST:

- Have emphysema
- Be 40 to 80 years of age
- Be a current or ex-smoker
- Not be taking statins

You may receive a statin pill or a placebo (an inactive substance) and medical tests, including breathing and blood tests, at no cost during the trial.

The trial consists of 4 to 6 visits per year to the research facility, Temple Lung Center, for up to 2 years. You may receive $100 for the first visit and $50 for each following visit.
